

General Terms and Conditions of Access and Use (GTCU)

In these GTCU, capitalised terms refer to the definitions below:

Application: refers to the NEXTMUNE application, namely “DermoscentEZlearn”.

Company: refers to the company NEXTMUNE, owner of this application and its content.

Support Email: refers to the email address training@dermoscent.com.

PURPOSE

The purpose of these General Terms and Conditions of Access and/or Use is to govern access to the online Training Programmes and related services offered in the Application.

Once registered, you will be able to access the courses and/or exercises we have selected at any time via the Internet, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

You can access the service from any device connected to the Internet with a connection speed of at least 2 Mbps (computer, tablet, mobile phone). The service can also be used offline via the mobile application.

This service offered by the Company may change: the Company reserves the right to amend these General Terms and Conditions of Access and/or Use without prior notice.

TRAINING PROGRAMMES

Users will be able to follow the training courses offered by the Company for their professional sector and will have access to the service for a fixed period set at registration or, failing that, for the duration of their contract.

The digital training includes quizzes and online learning paths and may also include written assignments.

TRAINING PERIOD

The training period is determined by the registration date.

ACCESS CONDITIONS

Opening an account: to become a user, you must have an access previously opened by the Company, valid at the time of login, and be authorised to use the service.

This authorisation is granted automatically based on the Company's data.

ACCESS TO THE SERVICE

Access to the training programmes

The login and password granted to the user are strictly personal, confidential and non-transferable. Please refer to the Application's access conditions, as access is provided by the Company.

The Company cannot be held liable for any misuse of this section.

Every login is recorded. No one other than the user is permitted to use the user's personal data to log in to the platform.

Use of the personal login details by anyone other than the user would distort the user's progress tracking data, and the training programme could prove ineffective.

In the event of fraud of any kind by a user of the Application, as established by the Company, the Company shall not be held liable in any way for the results obtained as a result. The Company reserves the right to permanently exclude the "fraudulent" user from the programme, without any entitlement to compensation.

By accepting these general terms and conditions without reservation, the user certifies on their honour that they have completed their training without outside help.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

The training materials, multiple-choice questions, exercises, answers and any other content made available to the user during their registration period remain the full property of the Company, unless otherwise stated, and are intended for strictly personal use. Please note that all materials provided are intended solely for training purposes and must not be used for any other purpose.

Any reproduction is strictly prohibited and may result in legal action.

DATA PROTECTION

The information collected is processed electronically for the purpose of managing users and the training provided by the Company.

The data collected is stored on the Application's server.

The User may be required to provide certain information to the Application team when creating, using or logging in to the Application:

- Personal data relating to their identity: surname, first name.
- Data relating to their professional life: professional email address.

The Application also collects the following information about the computers, phones and other devices on which the User installs or uses our Services, depending on the permissions granted.

- Technical data: browser version, device type.

The learner's personal data may be accessed and used in the event of incidents and/or malfunctions reported by the learner or detected by the Application team. Learning and usage data is also used anonymously to improve the service and for educational research.

In accordance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of 27 April 2016 on data protection (GDPR) and French Law No. 78-17 of 6 January 1978 on information technology, data files and civil liberties, as currently in force, you have the right to access, rectify, erase, restrict and port the information concerning you, as well as the right to object in the cases provided for by the regulations. You may exercise these rights by contacting the Application's data controller at the Support Email, enclosing proof of identity.

If you encounter a problem, please email the Support Email, describing the type of problem and including your login ID.

By accepting the GTCU, the user acknowledges that using the Application is a personal decision and that they cannot under any circumstances be compelled to do so.

GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

By confirming their registration, the user accepts the General Terms and Conditions of Access and Use without reservation.

These terms and conditions are governed by French law. In the event of a dispute concerning the application or interpretation of these terms and conditions, the parties agree to seek an amicable solution. Failing this, the matter shall be referred to the competent French court, namely the Commercial Court of CASTRES.

Enjoy using the Application!
